Dear Parents,

At the end of last term behaviour was deteriorating in the dining room at lunchtime therefore, I have decided that for the foreseeable future, the children will lose the privilege of choosing where they sit. They will instead be directed to a seat by the lunchbreak supervisors.

The unacceptable behaviours include:- shouting at each other when they are sitting next to each other, large quantities of food on floor causing a safety hazard, and poor table manners. The noise level reached unacceptable levels and was causing distress to some of the quieter/younger children who find eating in noisy environments difficult. It has also become difficult for cooks and lunchbreak supervisors to hear what children are saying to them even when they are in close proximity to them.

I am disappointed to have to introduce this measure, but it is necessary because the children have failed to respond to numerous requests about behaviour. As soon as the noise reduces and manners improve the privilege will be reinstated. Please don't hesitate to contact me should you have any concerns about this issue.

Thank you for your support.

Best wishes,

Rosie Brydon
